

Best for Cambodia

About Asia Travel (aboutasiatravel.com)

Who they are Founded in 2004 by a former City banker, Andy Booth, the company is based in Siem Reap close to the ancient temples of Angkor. All profits go to Booth's charity, About Asia Schools, which supports more than 12,500 children in 25 rural schools.

Why they're good Altruism aside, the company offers on-the-ground expertise and access to some of Cambodia's undiscovered gems.

Recommendation for 2011 The former French colonial town of Kampot offers a taste of old Indochina. Go this year before a new casino and golf resort change it for ever.